

DAILY LOUISVILLE DEMOCRAT.

VOLUME XVII.

Daily Democrat

TERMS OF DAILY DEMOCRAT TO THE COUNTRY.

One Year $5.00

Six Months 3.00

Three Months 1.50

One Month50

No subscriptions taken for less than one month.

LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY: TUESDAY MORNING, JULY 16, 1861.

NUMBER 310.

UNION NOMINATIONS FOR THE LEGISLATURE.

FIRST DISTRICT IN LOUISVILLE—COMPOSED OF TENTH AND FIRST WARDS.

JOHN C. BEEMAN.

SECOND DISTRICT—COMPOSED OF SECOND, THIRD AND FOURTH WARDS.

NATHANIEL WOLFE.

THIRD DISTRICT—COMPOSED OF THE FIFTH AND SIXTH WARDS.

JOSHUA TEVIS.

FOURTH DISTRICT—NO NOMINATION HAS YET BEEN MADE.

FOR LEGISLATURE FROM JEFFERSON COUNTY.

JOHN E. HARNEY.

Mr. Holt. The Secessionists are very certain that this is a war on slavery. They wish it was so; or at least that they could pursue every one South it were so. The President says it is not; his Generals in their proclamations say not; and nobody North says it is, except a few who have been disowning up to this time, and who are at heart disunionists now. This disunion faction North are very desirous to shape this war against slavery. When they find it can't be done they will be against the war. They pray daily that Kentucky may be plunged into the revolution. She is one of the slave States, and it is in the way of a war on the institution of slavery. Let all the slave-holders be rebels, and the coast will be more clear for a general crusade upon the institution.

This faction and the Secessionists play into each others' hands. Each furnishes ammunition to the other, with which to assail conservative men at home. It is obvious, however, that whenever the Administration avows that its purpose is to war on slavery, it will neither be able to raise men or money. It would learn promptly from its Generals and its troops that they bargained to save the Government and its Constitution, not to destroy it. The President has been careful from first to last to avoid anything that would be construed into such a purpose. The suggestion is contrary to all his declarations and all his acts. Still the Secessionists are so anxious to believe that it is a war on slavery, that they will believe it anyhow. The Abolitionists say it is a war on slavery, and the Secessionists believe every word they say. The have great faith in the Abolitionists.

PLAN OF THE K. G. C.—Just before the August election Governor Magoffin is to have pressing business in Tennessee, and when he gets there he is to issue a proclamation à la Clay Jackson. Thus: Whereas, the neutrality of Kentucky has been violated by Lincoln, the usurper, in blocking the Louisville and Nashville road, etc., therefore I, B. Magoffin, order the State Guard to proceed immediately in conjunction with the troops from Tennessee, to precipitate themselves upon Louisville, take possession of the said road and put it in operation. God and liberty! Amen!

The Governor knows nothing about this. The part he is to act is invented for him by the Knights. They have not yet selected the General who is to act the part of General Price.

Now, we do hereby proclaim that no official in Kentucky, much less Governor Magoffin, is foolish enough or wicked enough to play so ridiculous and criminal a part as this. They are all a little too smart to be caught in such traps. If any would have made the experiment months ago, they have grown wiser by observation. Secession has played its last card in these States; it has started down hill, and will roll on to the bottom, increasing its velocity as it goes. The experiments that succeeded pretty well some time ago would be very ridiculous now, and none would be more absurd than this one.

The Mail (Ais) notices that Breckinridge and Powell have taken their seats in the Senate of the United States; and approves it. The Alabama Senators did the same thing because they could better serve the Southern Confederacy than elsewhere. He has no doubt of the integrity and patriotism of Messrs. Powell and Breckinridge. The Senate of the United States is more forbearing than in the better days of the country. In the time of Burr's conspiracy, Senator Smith was accused of complicity with the traitor before the Senate; and the vote for expelling him stood 19 to 10—only lacking one of the two-thirds. Burr's sit was a trifling compared with the present attempt to break up the government, and Smith's guilt was not half as plain as that of our two Senators now at Washington.

A SLANDER NAILED.—The Louisville Courier has pursued a most reckless and indefensible course in the present canvas. The mere misrepresentation of facts in relation to political opinions and of the wishes and dears of Union men themselves is without parallel, but the means which the paper adopts in other matters far exceeds this. In his paper of yesterday he says of the Hon. Joseph Holt, among a number of other statements equally false:

He who asked pay for canvassing the state of which he was a citizen in behalf of the party of which he was a member, leaves the place of his residence and of his interests, and goes a thousand miles to persuade a free people to consent to chains and slavery, and to acquiesce in the overthrow of Republican government!

We are authorized to pronounce this most unequivocally false in every sense. To those who are acquainted with Mr. Holt a denial is unnecessary, but we can say further that this gentleman never has in this or in any other canvas asked any pecuniary aid, nor has any man ever offered him any aid of that kind in any canvas.

The New York Post says: "Our ports are blockaded, but beyond that we feel but little of the war. Beef is only about one-half price to what it was last year. All vegetables are very abundant and very cheap. Coffee sells at from fifteen to twenty cents per pound. No one here believes the North can subjugate the South. Should there not be peace we shall expect lively times in the autumn here; but during the summer months we look for quiet."

The Secessionists here had a rumor direct by the clothes line telegraph Saturday evening, that Patterson had been defeated by Johnston, with a loss somewhere between 30,000 and 30,000,000. The Secessionists in and about this neighborhood do hear the most astounding facts, and have a credibility that puts to shame of the other. Her plan of arresting the difficulty after it began was not adopted. Her position is central, in the Union, and it is not just to expect her to invite invading armies to her soil. When it is needed to save this Government, there will then be an object for Kentucky to fight. No such necessity exists yet. It may be said that our conduct is not constitutional or loyal, as Kentucky is a State of the Union. As to that we insist that we have at least observed the Constitution as well as any party we know of, and somewhat better. As a State, we have furnished no troops; nor has our neutrality been practically disturbed. Our judgment is that the Federal Government has no reason to complain of us. A theater of war Kentucky would have needed to such a garrison, and endearments which it does not deserve. The suggestion is contrary to all his declarations and all his acts. Still the Secessionists are so anxious to believe that it is a war on slavery, that they will believe it anyhow. The Abolitionists say it is a war on slavery, and the Secessionists believe every word they say. The have great faith in the Abolitionists.

Fellow Citizens. A few weeks in another form, I venture to repeat my views upon the critical events which have occurred in every heartthirst and to every heart in our distracted country, and it is not my purpose on this occasion to repeat these views, or to engage in any extended discussion of the questions they encompass. It is not necessary that I do so since the argument is exhausted, and the popular mind is perfectly familiar with it in all its bearings. I will, however, with your permission, submit a few brief observations upon the absorbing and sore humiliations due alike to the similarity of my convictions and to the magnitude of the interests involved, it is trusted that none will be offended, not even those who may most widely differ from me.

Could one, an entire stranger to our history, now look down upon the South and see there a hundred or a hundred and fifty thousand men marching in hostile array, threatening the capture of the Capital, and the dismemberment of the territories of the South; and could he not see that the South, which has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, would forthwith from the truth that this Government is but the first of its constitutional obligations. For eighty years it has maintained the national honor at home and abroad, and by its principles, its wisdom, its justice, it has given birth to the idea of a neutral citizen an elevation among the nations of the earth which the citizen of no republic has enjoyed since Rome was mistress of the world. Under its administration, the Southern Confederacy has stretched away to the Pacific, and that confederacy which announced our birth as a people has expanded from thirteen to thirty-four stars, all, until recently, moving, undisturbed and undimmed in their orbits of light and grandeur. The rights of man have been despised, no man's liberty abridged, and his life oppressed by the action of this Government. The public influence of the South may demand, whenever they shall lay down their arms, but not until then. The arbitrament of the sword has been definitely decided, and the South has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, and could it not be seen that the South, which has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, would forthwith from the truth that this Government is but the first of its constitutional obligations. For eighty years it has maintained the national honor at home and abroad, and by its principles, its wisdom, its justice, it has given birth to the idea of a neutral citizen an elevation among the nations of the earth which the citizen of no republic has enjoyed since Rome was mistress of the world. Under its administration, the Southern Confederacy has stretched away to the Pacific, and that confederacy which announced our birth as a people has expanded from thirteen to thirty-four stars, all, until recently, moving, undisturbed and undimmed in their orbits of light and grandeur. The rights of man have been despised, no man's liberty abridged, and his life oppressed by the action of this Government. The public influence of the South may demand, whenever they shall lay down their arms, but not until then. The arbitrament of the sword has been definitely decided, and the South has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, and could it not be seen that the South, which has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, would forthwith from the truth that this Government is but the first of its constitutional obligations. For eighty years it has maintained the national honor at home and abroad, and by its principles, its wisdom, its justice, it has given birth to the idea of a neutral citizen an elevation among the nations of the earth which the citizen of no republic has enjoyed since Rome was mistress of the world. Under its administration, the Southern Confederacy has stretched away to the Pacific, and that confederacy which announced our birth as a people has expanded from thirteen to thirty-four stars, all, until recently, moving, undisturbed and undimmed in their orbits of light and grandeur. The rights of man have been despised, no man's liberty abridged, and his life oppressed by the action of this Government. The public influence of the South may demand, whenever they shall lay down their arms, but not until then. The arbitrament of the sword has been definitely decided, and the South has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, and could it not be seen that the South, which has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, would forthwith from the truth that this Government is but the first of its constitutional obligations. For eighty years it has maintained the national honor at home and abroad, and by its principles, its wisdom, its justice, it has given birth to the idea of a neutral citizen an elevation among the nations of the earth which the citizen of no republic has enjoyed since Rome was mistress of the world. Under its administration, the Southern Confederacy has stretched away to the Pacific, and that confederacy which announced our birth as a people has expanded from thirteen to thirty-four stars, all, until recently, moving, undisturbed and undimmed in their orbits of light and grandeur. The rights of man have been despised, no man's liberty abridged, and his life oppressed by the action of this Government. The public influence of the South may demand, whenever they shall lay down their arms, but not until then. The arbitrament of the sword has been definitely decided, and the South has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, and could it not be seen that the South, which has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, would forthwith from the truth that this Government is but the first of its constitutional obligations. For eighty years it has maintained the national honor at home and abroad, and by its principles, its wisdom, its justice, it has given birth to the idea of a neutral citizen an elevation among the nations of the earth which the citizen of no republic has enjoyed since Rome was mistress of the world. Under its administration, the Southern Confederacy has stretched away to the Pacific, and that confederacy which announced our birth as a people has expanded from thirteen to thirty-four stars, all, until recently, moving, undisturbed and undimmed in their orbits of light and grandeur. The rights of man have been despised, no man's liberty abridged, and his life oppressed by the action of this Government. The public influence of the South may demand, whenever they shall lay down their arms, but not until then. The arbitrament of the sword has been definitely decided, and the South has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, and could it not be seen that the South, which has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, would forthwith from the truth that this Government is but the first of its constitutional obligations. For eighty years it has maintained the national honor at home and abroad, and by its principles, its wisdom, its justice, it has given birth to the idea of a neutral citizen an elevation among the nations of the earth which the citizen of no republic has enjoyed since Rome was mistress of the world. Under its administration, the Southern Confederacy has stretched away to the Pacific, and that confederacy which announced our birth as a people has expanded from thirteen to thirty-four stars, all, until recently, moving, undisturbed and undimmed in their orbits of light and grandeur. The rights of man have been despised, no man's liberty abridged, and his life oppressed by the action of this Government. The public influence of the South may demand, whenever they shall lay down their arms, but not until then. The arbitrament of the sword has been definitely decided, and the South has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, and could it not be seen that the South, which has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, would forthwith from the truth that this Government is but the first of its constitutional obligations. For eighty years it has maintained the national honor at home and abroad, and by its principles, its wisdom, its justice, it has given birth to the idea of a neutral citizen an elevation among the nations of the earth which the citizen of no republic has enjoyed since Rome was mistress of the world. Under its administration, the Southern Confederacy has stretched away to the Pacific, and that confederacy which announced our birth as a people has expanded from thirteen to thirty-four stars, all, until recently, moving, undisturbed and undimmed in their orbits of light and grandeur. The rights of man have been despised, no man's liberty abridged, and his life oppressed by the action of this Government. The public influence of the South may demand, whenever they shall lay down their arms, but not until then. The arbitrament of the sword has been definitely decided, and the South has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, and could it not be seen that the South, which has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, would forthwith from the truth that this Government is but the first of its constitutional obligations. For eighty years it has maintained the national honor at home and abroad, and by its principles, its wisdom, its justice, it has given birth to the idea of a neutral citizen an elevation among the nations of the earth which the citizen of no republic has enjoyed since Rome was mistress of the world. Under its administration, the Southern Confederacy has stretched away to the Pacific, and that confederacy which announced our birth as a people has expanded from thirteen to thirty-four stars, all, until recently, moving, undisturbed and undimmed in their orbits of light and grandeur. The rights of man have been despised, no man's liberty abridged, and his life oppressed by the action of this Government. The public influence of the South may demand, whenever they shall lay down their arms, but not until then. The arbitrament of the sword has been definitely decided, and the South has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, and could it not be seen that the South, which has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, would forthwith from the truth that this Government is but the first of its constitutional obligations. For eighty years it has maintained the national honor at home and abroad, and by its principles, its wisdom, its justice, it has given birth to the idea of a neutral citizen an elevation among the nations of the earth which the citizen of no republic has enjoyed since Rome was mistress of the world. Under its administration, the Southern Confederacy has stretched away to the Pacific, and that confederacy which announced our birth as a people has expanded from thirteen to thirty-four stars, all, until recently, moving, undisturbed and undimmed in their orbits of light and grandeur. The rights of man have been despised, no man's liberty abridged, and his life oppressed by the action of this Government. The public influence of the South may demand, whenever they shall lay down their arms, but not until then. The arbitrament of the sword has been definitely decided, and the South has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, and could it not be seen that the South, which has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, would forthwith from the truth that this Government is but the first of its constitutional obligations. For eighty years it has maintained the national honor at home and abroad, and by its principles, its wisdom, its justice, it has given birth to the idea of a neutral citizen an elevation among the nations of the earth which the citizen of no republic has enjoyed since Rome was mistress of the world. Under its administration, the Southern Confederacy has stretched away to the Pacific, and that confederacy which announced our birth as a people has expanded from thirteen to thirty-four stars, all, until recently, moving, undisturbed and undimmed in their orbits of light and grandeur. The rights of man have been despised, no man's liberty abridged, and his life oppressed by the action of this Government. The public influence of the South may demand, whenever they shall lay down their arms, but not until then. The arbitrament of the sword has been definitely decided, and the South has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, and could it not be seen that the South, which has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, would forthwith from the truth that this Government is but the first of its constitutional obligations. For eighty years it has maintained the national honor at home and abroad, and by its principles, its wisdom, its justice, it has given birth to the idea of a neutral citizen an elevation among the nations of the earth which the citizen of no republic has enjoyed since Rome was mistress of the world. Under its administration, the Southern Confederacy has stretched away to the Pacific, and that confederacy which announced our birth as a people has expanded from thirteen to thirty-four stars, all, until recently, moving, undisturbed and undimmed in their orbits of light and grandeur. The rights of man have been despised, no man's liberty abridged, and his life oppressed by the action of this Government. The public influence of the South may demand, whenever they shall lay down their arms, but not until then. The arbitrament of the sword has been definitely decided, and the South has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, and could it not be seen that the South, which has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, would forthwith from the truth that this Government is but the first of its constitutional obligations. For eighty years it has maintained the national honor at home and abroad, and by its principles, its wisdom, its justice, it has given birth to the idea of a neutral citizen an elevation among the nations of the earth which the citizen of no republic has enjoyed since Rome was mistress of the world. Under its administration, the Southern Confederacy has stretched away to the Pacific, and that confederacy which announced our birth as a people has expanded from thirteen to thirty-four stars, all, until recently, moving, undisturbed and undimmed in their orbits of light and grandeur. The rights of man have been despised, no man's liberty abridged, and his life oppressed by the action of this Government. The public influence of the South may demand, whenever they shall lay down their arms, but not until then. The arbitrament of the sword has been definitely decided, and the South has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, and could it not be seen that the South, which has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, would forthwith from the truth that this Government is but the first of its constitutional obligations. For eighty years it has maintained the national honor at home and abroad, and by its principles, its wisdom, its justice, it has given birth to the idea of a neutral citizen an elevation among the nations of the earth which the citizen of no republic has enjoyed since Rome was mistress of the world. Under its administration, the Southern Confederacy has stretched away to the Pacific, and that confederacy which announced our birth as a people has expanded from thirteen to thirty-four stars, all, until recently, moving, undisturbed and undimmed in their orbits of light and grandeur. The rights of man have been despised, no man's liberty abridged, and his life oppressed by the action of this Government. The public influence of the South may demand, whenever they shall lay down their arms, but not until then. The arbitrament of the sword has been definitely decided, and the South has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, and could it not be seen that the South, which has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, would forthwith from the truth that this Government is but the first of its constitutional obligations. For eighty years it has maintained the national honor at home and abroad, and by its principles, its wisdom, its justice, it has given birth to the idea of a neutral citizen an elevation among the nations of the earth which the citizen of no republic has enjoyed since Rome was mistress of the world. Under its administration, the Southern Confederacy has stretched away to the Pacific, and that confederacy which announced our birth as a people has expanded from thirteen to thirty-four stars, all, until recently, moving, undisturbed and undimmed in their orbits of light and grandeur. The rights of man have been despised, no man's liberty abridged, and his life oppressed by the action of this Government. The public influence of the South may demand, whenever they shall lay down their arms, but not until then. The arbitrament of the sword has been definitely decided, and the South has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, and could it not be seen that the South, which has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, would forthwith from the truth that this Government is but the first of its constitutional obligations. For eighty years it has maintained the national honor at home and abroad, and by its principles, its wisdom, its justice, it has given birth to the idea of a neutral citizen an elevation among the nations of the earth which the citizen of no republic has enjoyed since Rome was mistress of the world. Under its administration, the Southern Confederacy has stretched away to the Pacific, and that confederacy which announced our birth as a people has expanded from thirteen to thirty-four stars, all, until recently, moving, undisturbed and undimmed in their orbits of light and grandeur. The rights of man have been despised, no man's liberty abridged, and his life oppressed by the action of this Government. The public influence of the South may demand, whenever they shall lay down their arms, but not until then. The arbitrament of the sword has been definitely decided, and the South has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, and could it not be seen that the South, which has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, would forthwith from the truth that this Government is but the first of its constitutional obligations. For eighty years it has maintained the national honor at home and abroad, and by its principles, its wisdom, its justice, it has given birth to the idea of a neutral citizen an elevation among the nations of the earth which the citizen of no republic has enjoyed since Rome was mistress of the world. Under its administration, the Southern Confederacy has stretched away to the Pacific, and that confederacy which announced our birth as a people has expanded from thirteen to thirty-four stars, all, until recently, moving, undisturbed and undimmed in their orbits of light and grandeur. The rights of man have been despised, no man's liberty abridged, and his life oppressed by the action of this Government. The public influence of the South may demand, whenever they shall lay down their arms, but not until then. The arbitrament of the sword has been definitely decided, and the South has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, and could it not be seen that the South, which has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, would forthwith from the truth that this Government is but the first of its constitutional obligations. For eighty years it has maintained the national honor at home and abroad, and by its principles, its wisdom, its justice, it has given birth to the idea of a neutral citizen an elevation among the nations of the earth which the citizen of no republic has enjoyed since Rome was mistress of the world. Under its administration, the Southern Confederacy has stretched away to the Pacific, and that confederacy which announced our birth as a people has expanded from thirteen to thirty-four stars, all, until recently, moving, undisturbed and undimmed in their orbits of light and grandeur. The rights of man have been despised, no man's liberty abridged, and his life oppressed by the action of this Government. The public influence of the South may demand, whenever they shall lay down their arms, but not until then. The arbitrament of the sword has been definitely decided, and the South has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, and could it not be seen that the South, which has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, would forthwith from the truth that this Government is but the first of its constitutional obligations. For eighty years it has maintained the national honor at home and abroad, and by its principles, its wisdom, its justice, it has given birth to the idea of a neutral citizen an elevation among the nations of the earth which the citizen of no republic has enjoyed since Rome was mistress of the world. Under its administration, the Southern Confederacy has stretched away to the Pacific, and that confederacy which announced our birth as a people has expanded from thirteen to thirty-four stars, all, until recently, moving, undisturbed and undimmed in their orbits of light and grandeur. The rights of man have been despised, no man's liberty abridged, and his life oppressed by the action of this Government. The public influence of the South may demand, whenever they shall lay down their arms, but not until then. The arbitrament of the sword has been definitely decided, and the South has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, and could it not be seen that the South, which has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, would forthwith from the truth that this Government is but the first of its constitutional obligations. For eighty years it has maintained the national honor at home and abroad, and by its principles, its wisdom, its justice, it has given birth to the idea of a neutral citizen an elevation among the nations of the earth which the citizen of no republic has enjoyed since Rome was mistress of the world. Under its administration, the Southern Confederacy has stretched away to the Pacific, and that confederacy which announced our birth as a people has expanded from thirteen to thirty-four stars, all, until recently, moving, undisturbed and undimmed in their orbits of light and grandeur. The rights of man have been despised, no man's liberty abridged, and his life oppressed by the action of this Government. The public influence of the South may demand, whenever they shall lay down their arms, but not until then. The arbitrament of the sword has been definitely decided, and the South has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, and could it not be seen that the South, which has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, would forthwith from the truth that this Government is but the first of its constitutional obligations. For eighty years it has maintained the national honor at home and abroad, and by its principles, its wisdom, its justice, it has given birth to the idea of a neutral citizen an elevation among the nations of the earth which the citizen of no republic has enjoyed since Rome was mistress of the world. Under its administration, the Southern Confederacy has stretched away to the Pacific, and that confederacy which announced our birth as a people has expanded from thirteen to thirty-four stars, all, until recently, moving, undisturbed and undimmed in their orbits of light and grandeur. The rights of man have been despised, no man's liberty abridged, and his life oppressed by the action of this Government. The public influence of the South may demand, whenever they shall lay down their arms, but not until then. The arbitrament of the sword has been definitely decided, and the South has been drawn to appear as the last stand of the Southern Confederacy, and could it not be seen that the South, which

Daily Democrat.

PRINTED AND PUBLISHED BY
HARNEY, HUGHES & CO.
Office—East side Third Street, between Market and Jefferson'

FOR STATE TREASURER,
JAS. E. GARRARD.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS IN THE COUNTRY.—Our friends in the country remitting odd change will please send us no denomination of stamps except the THREE CENT stamps. We can receive a moderate share of these. Stamps of any other denomination will be returned.

UNCURRENT MONEY.—All depreciated money received for subscriptions will be taken only at its current rates by the bank.

AGENT AT FRANKFORT.—Persons wishing to subscribe for the Daily or Weekly Democrat in Frankfort, are requested to call upon Colonel R. H. Bolling, at the office of Clerk of Court of Appeals. He will receive and forward their subscriptions.

Persons residing in the city or suburbs can be supplied with the Democrat by prompt and faithful carriers. Orders left at the desk or with the carriers will be punctually attended to.

Mr. James R. Talbot is an authorized agent for the Democrat at Taylorsville, Ky.

Daily Democrat to the county one year, in advance, $5.

POLICE PROCEEDINGS.—July 15.—Val Parker took the oath and was made a citizen.

Tachell was brought in from the workhouse and gave bail to go to Middletown and return, to answer a charge of drunk and disorderly conduct; $100 to keep the peace for one month.

Mary and Wm. Loftur, drunk and disorderly; bail in $100 for two months.

Graville Powell, who was held over till day was discharged.

James Ryan, drunk and disorderly conduct; $100 to be of good behavior for two months.

Wm. Birch and James Brown, stealing a pistol from a countryman; R. F. Baird, bail for Birch.

Martin Glenn, Martin Milan and John Ford, drunk and disorderly, as usual; $100 each to answer on the 6th of August. John Brady went bail for Milan; John Moor for Ford and Edward Crowley for Glenn.

Jane Turner and Anna Daves, drunkenness and disorderly conduct; $100 for one month.

Robert Barr, cutting John Oisin with intent to kill—charge of felony withdrawn; bail in $100 to answer on the 6th of August. All parties recognized to go before the Grand Jury.

Attachment vs George Kennison and Madam Barnum, which was continued from last Monday, was called up this morning; discharged on payment of cost of the attachment.

The above George Kennison and Madam Barnum were charged with living in adultery; bail in $150 each to answer the charge.

A shindy occurred in Shippingport, Ky., on Sunday night, in which one man was struck with a brickbat, full in the face, flattening his nose and blacking his eyes severely. There are but three Secessionists in Shippingport, as we are informed, and they kept the quarrel in the family, though it did not originate in politics.

Persons absent from the city, at the springs, in the country, or in camp, can be supplied with the Daily Democrat at the rate of fifty cents per month for any length of time they may wish to subscribe.

The rain of yesterday was of that grand kind which soaks in rather than runs off the ground. It was not much needed in this section. While it may be injurious to oats and other grain not in stock, the corn and pasture will be benefited by it.

There is no disguising the fact that many thousands of the population of Louisville have gone away—some to the Southern army, some to the Federal army, but many more to other points, in search of something to do.

THE LATEST NEWS.—Our old friend, Pargy, who has attained so enviable a reputation for the excellence of his kitchen and the superb manner in which he serves the public with everything in his line, will this evening open on the ground floor of his building, at the corner of Third and Jefferson streets, one of the neatest and quietest little bar-rooms in the city. His appointments are all elegant, and the quality of his wines and liquors is too well known to need commendation from us. Hereafter there will be no bar in the restaurant room, though the best liquors can always be had, as before. We wish Mr. Pargy all the success which his industry so well deserves.

A son of Erin, while viewing the parades of the Tiger Rifles a day or two since, inquired what "T. R." on the caps of the troops meant, and receiving no answer, continued: "Ooh, and it means Tur and Bun to bakers."

THANKS.—We are daily under many obligations to the Adams Express Company, as well as the American Letter Express, for the latest files of papers below the East, West, North, and South.

We saw a man yesterday from Camp Trousdale, just over the Kentucky line, in Tennessee. He had permission to go out a blackberrying, and lost the way back. He reached our city a day or two ago, and is now enrolled on the other side. He reports some five thousand soldiers at Camp Trousdale, many of whom are restive and discontented.

The Savannah (Ga.) Republican says "it is not reasonable to suppose that the proprietors of newspapers will long continue their publication at a loss." No doubt they would be as much at a loss how to do it, as it would be to endeavor for them to make it a daily amusement to cut off their heads.

Thurlow Weed condemns the course of the Abolitionists, Lovejoy, for attempting to drag the slavery question into Congress. He says—"The country will insist that the laws of Congress are not the proper place just now to trot out the negro."

THE POSITION OF GEN. JOHNSTON'S ARMY.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 11, 1861.
MESSRS. HARNEY, HUGHES & CO.

Gentlemen: The war measures are being put through both branches of Congress with the rapidity that the necessity of the case demands. In the Senate, the resolution to approve certain acts of the President was taken up, and a running debate was kept up until a late hour in the afternoon, the principal point being the propriety of increasing the regular army and the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus. The views of the debate as well as the amendments which were offered and agreed to, indicate that the most active measures that men and money can put on foot will be taken to sustain the Federal flag everywhere. Certain Senators and Representatives, whose propensities are with the rebellion, still harp on cōsēcōrē. That is the only word, or, in fact, the only idea that can be mustered up with which to make an argument. They well know that when they speak of the Government of the United States using coercion against any true citizens, they mistake the case entirely. The Government only intends to give the protection of the Star Spangled Banner to the citizens of the Southern States, who are now overpowered by a rebellious mob. If the rebels choose to lay down their arms and accept the benefits of the United States Government all will be well; if they do not, they must let those alone who are not disloyal, and enjoy the protection of such a Government, as they must leave the United States of America. The Administration will not coerce them to stay in the country whose laws they do not like. The very largest amount of freedom is allowed by our Constitution and laws, but the freedom of rebellion is specially interdicted. The State of South Carolina has coerced every other State that has seceded from the United States, to join a so-called Southern Confederacy, and when the Government of the United States offers aid and protection to the people who have been so coerced, the cry of coercion, coercion, is raised to excite the very same people to turn from the offered protection. This Government will defend its property and protect its people everywhere, despite the opposition of factious legislators.

In the House, the war measures were brought forward, when Mr. Burnett, of Kentucky, stated his position as being opposed both by his vote and by his voice against them; that under his understanding of the theory of our government, it could not be maintained by a resort to swords, bayonets, &c.

Mr. Mallory, of Kentucky, replied to Mr. Burnett in such a manner that he was frequently applauded both by the crowd in the galleries and the members on the floor. His pledge for the State of Kentucky through her Union members, was handsomely given, and will be as handsomely redeemed by the people of the State when the demand is made upon them. The Kentucky soil from disunion troops, and the disunion party asking that the Federal troops should be treated in like manner. He had no authority in the matter, even if it had been legal and constitutional to forbid the passage of United States troops over the State. It was simply a favor which the Government might grant or refuse, and resistance to it would be rebellion; resistance to the other side a defense of the position of Kentucky as a State in the Union.

The Legislature of the State adopted resolutions, declaring that Kentucky would remain neutral in the contest, and would not permit the passage of troops over her soil from either party.—Nashville (Tenn.) Union and American.

Mr. F. S. Bartow has resigned his seat in Congress, and has been breveted a Brigadier General. By an ordinance of the Convention, in the event of a vacancy in the present Georgia Congressional delegation, it is to be filled by an election of a new member by the remainder of the delegation.

Democracy is utterly destroyed in it, and aristocracy of office-holders take their places.

Gov. Ellis, of North Carolina, died at Red Sulphur, Va., on the 8th. The Richmond Enquirer believes that Col. Clark, the Speaker of Senate, becomes Governor of North Carolina.

Thirty-three free negroes who had been engaged in erecting fortifications at Tybee Island, Ga., returned to Savannah on the 13th.

Mr. H. Watts and Judge Shorter are the candidates for Governor of Georgia, Judge Moore declines.

Mr. F. S. Bartow has resigned his seat in Congress, and has been breveted a Brigadier General. By an ordinance of the Convention, in the event of a vacancy in the present Georgia Congressional delegation, it is to be filled by an election of a new member by the remainder of the delegation.

Democracy is utterly destroyed in it, and aristocracy of office-holders take their places.

Gov. Ellis, of North Carolina, died at Red Sulphur, Va., on the 8th. The Richmond Enquirer believes that Col. Clark, the Speaker of Senate, becomes Governor of North Carolina.

Thirty-three free negroes who had been engaged in erecting fortifications at Tybee Island, Ga., returned to Savannah on the 13th.

Mr. H. Watts and Judge Shorter are the candidates for Governor of Georgia, Judge Moore declines.

Mr. F. S. Bartow has resigned his seat in Congress, and has been breveted a Brigadier General. By an ordinance of the Convention, in the event of a vacancy in the present Georgia Congressional delegation, it is to be filled by an election of a new member by the remainder of the delegation.

Democracy is utterly destroyed in it, and aristocracy of office-holders take their places.

Gov. Ellis, of North Carolina, died at Red Sulphur, Va., on the 8th. The Richmond Enquirer believes that Col. Clark, the Speaker of Senate, becomes Governor of North Carolina.

Thirty-three free negroes who had been engaged in erecting fortifications at Tybee Island, Ga., returned to Savannah on the 13th.

Mr. H. Watts and Judge Shorter are the candidates for Governor of Georgia, Judge Moore declines.

Mr. F. S. Bartow has resigned his seat in Congress, and has been breveted a Brigadier General. By an ordinance of the Convention, in the event of a vacancy in the present Georgia Congressional delegation, it is to be filled by an election of a new member by the remainder of the delegation.

Democracy is utterly destroyed in it, and aristocracy of office-holders take their places.

Gov. Ellis, of North Carolina, died at Red Sulphur, Va., on the 8th. The Richmond Enquirer believes that Col. Clark, the Speaker of Senate, becomes Governor of North Carolina.

Thirty-three free negroes who had been engaged in erecting fortifications at Tybee Island, Ga., returned to Savannah on the 13th.

Mr. H. Watts and Judge Shorter are the candidates for Governor of Georgia, Judge Moore declines.

Mr. F. S. Bartow has resigned his seat in Congress, and has been breveted a Brigadier General. By an ordinance of the Convention, in the event of a vacancy in the present Georgia Congressional delegation, it is to be filled by an election of a new member by the remainder of the delegation.

Democracy is utterly destroyed in it, and aristocracy of office-holders take their places.

Gov. Ellis, of North Carolina, died at Red Sulphur, Va., on the 8th. The Richmond Enquirer believes that Col. Clark, the Speaker of Senate, becomes Governor of North Carolina.

Thirty-three free negroes who had been engaged in erecting fortifications at Tybee Island, Ga., returned to Savannah on the 13th.

Mr. H. Watts and Judge Shorter are the candidates for Governor of Georgia, Judge Moore declines.

Mr. F. S. Bartow has resigned his seat in Congress, and has been breveted a Brigadier General. By an ordinance of the Convention, in the event of a vacancy in the present Georgia Congressional delegation, it is to be filled by an election of a new member by the remainder of the delegation.

Democracy is utterly destroyed in it, and aristocracy of office-holders take their places.

Gov. Ellis, of North Carolina, died at Red Sulphur, Va., on the 8th. The Richmond Enquirer believes that Col. Clark, the Speaker of Senate, becomes Governor of North Carolina.

Thirty-three free negroes who had been engaged in erecting fortifications at Tybee Island, Ga., returned to Savannah on the 13th.

Mr. H. Watts and Judge Shorter are the candidates for Governor of Georgia, Judge Moore declines.

Mr. F. S. Bartow has resigned his seat in Congress, and has been breveted a Brigadier General. By an ordinance of the Convention, in the event of a vacancy in the present Georgia Congressional delegation, it is to be filled by an election of a new member by the remainder of the delegation.

Democracy is utterly destroyed in it, and aristocracy of office-holders take their places.

Gov. Ellis, of North Carolina, died at Red Sulphur, Va., on the 8th. The Richmond Enquirer believes that Col. Clark, the Speaker of Senate, becomes Governor of North Carolina.

Thirty-three free negroes who had been engaged in erecting fortifications at Tybee Island, Ga., returned to Savannah on the 13th.

Mr. H. Watts and Judge Shorter are the candidates for Governor of Georgia, Judge Moore declines.

Mr. F. S. Bartow has resigned his seat in Congress, and has been breveted a Brigadier General. By an ordinance of the Convention, in the event of a vacancy in the present Georgia Congressional delegation, it is to be filled by an election of a new member by the remainder of the delegation.

Democracy is utterly destroyed in it, and aristocracy of office-holders take their places.

Gov. Ellis, of North Carolina, died at Red Sulphur, Va., on the 8th. The Richmond Enquirer believes that Col. Clark, the Speaker of Senate, becomes Governor of North Carolina.

Thirty-three free negroes who had been engaged in erecting fortifications at Tybee Island, Ga., returned to Savannah on the 13th.

Mr. H. Watts and Judge Shorter are the candidates for Governor of Georgia, Judge Moore declines.

Mr. F. S. Bartow has resigned his seat in Congress, and has been breveted a Brigadier General. By an ordinance of the Convention, in the event of a vacancy in the present Georgia Congressional delegation, it is to be filled by an election of a new member by the remainder of the delegation.

Democracy is utterly destroyed in it, and aristocracy of office-holders take their places.

Gov. Ellis, of North Carolina, died at Red Sulphur, Va., on the 8th. The Richmond Enquirer believes that Col. Clark, the Speaker of Senate, becomes Governor of North Carolina.

Thirty-three free negroes who had been engaged in erecting fortifications at Tybee Island, Ga., returned to Savannah on the 13th.

Mr. H. Watts and Judge Shorter are the candidates for Governor of Georgia, Judge Moore declines.

Mr. F. S. Bartow has resigned his seat in Congress, and has been breveted a Brigadier General. By an ordinance of the Convention, in the event of a vacancy in the present Georgia Congressional delegation, it is to be filled by an election of a new member by the remainder of the delegation.

Democracy is utterly destroyed in it, and aristocracy of office-holders take their places.

Gov. Ellis, of North Carolina, died at Red Sulphur, Va., on the 8th. The Richmond Enquirer believes that Col. Clark, the Speaker of Senate, becomes Governor of North Carolina.

Thirty-three free negroes who had been engaged in erecting fortifications at Tybee Island, Ga., returned to Savannah on the 13th.

Mr. H. Watts and Judge Shorter are the candidates for Governor of Georgia, Judge Moore declines.

Mr. F. S. Bartow has resigned his seat in Congress, and has been breveted a Brigadier General. By an ordinance of the Convention, in the event of a vacancy in the present Georgia Congressional delegation, it is to be filled by an election of a new member by the remainder of the delegation.

Democracy is utterly destroyed in it, and aristocracy of office-holders take their places.

Gov. Ellis, of North Carolina, died at Red Sulphur, Va., on the 8th. The Richmond Enquirer believes that Col. Clark, the Speaker of Senate, becomes Governor of North Carolina.

Thirty-three free negroes who had been engaged in erecting fortifications at Tybee Island, Ga., returned to Savannah on the 13th.

Mr. H. Watts and Judge Shorter are the candidates for Governor of Georgia, Judge Moore declines.

Mr. F. S. Bartow has resigned his seat in Congress, and has been breveted a Brigadier General. By an ordinance of the Convention, in the event of a vacancy in the present Georgia Congressional delegation, it is to be filled by an election of a new member by the remainder of the delegation.

Democracy is utterly destroyed in it, and aristocracy of office-holders take their places.

Gov. Ellis, of North Carolina, died at Red Sulphur, Va., on the 8th. The Richmond Enquirer believes that Col. Clark, the Speaker of Senate, becomes Governor of North Carolina.

Thirty-three free negroes who had been engaged in erecting fortifications at Tybee Island, Ga., returned to Savannah on the 13th.

Mr. H. Watts and Judge Shorter are the candidates for Governor of Georgia, Judge Moore declines.

Mr. F. S. Bartow has resigned his seat in Congress, and has been breveted a Brigadier General. By an ordinance of the Convention, in the event of a vacancy in the present Georgia Congressional delegation, it is to be filled by an election of a new member by the remainder of the delegation.

Democracy is utterly destroyed in it, and aristocracy of office-holders take their places.

Gov. Ellis, of North Carolina, died at Red Sulphur, Va., on the 8th. The Richmond Enquirer believes that Col. Clark, the Speaker of Senate, becomes Governor of North Carolina.

Thirty-three free negroes who had been engaged in erecting fortifications at Tybee Island, Ga., returned to Savannah on the 13th.

Mr. H. Watts and Judge Shorter are the candidates for Governor of Georgia, Judge Moore declines.

Mr. F. S. Bartow has resigned his seat in Congress, and has been breveted a Brigadier General. By an ordinance of the Convention, in the event of a vacancy in the present Georgia Congressional delegation, it is to be filled by an election of a new member by the remainder of the delegation.

Democracy is utterly

